

Response

Give to your King your judge - ment, O God:
give to the King's son your love of right- eous- ness.

- 1 So may he judge the people with probity,
so may he judge with equity the poor:
showering on mountains peace and prosperity,
lavishing righteousness from shore to shore.
- 2 May he defend the poor and the victimised,
rescue their children, crush the tyrant down;
while sun shall shine, from now till the end of time
nations will hold his name in high renown,
- 3 May he come down like rain on the new-mown field,
as morning showers refresh the fruitful earth.
Each day that dawns his righteousness is revealed,
grace and abundant peace are given birth.
- 4 Praise to our God, creator of time and space;
Praise to the Son, through whom the world was made;
Praise to the Spirit, giver of light and grace:
God, Three in One, in majesty arrayed.