Words: Ancient Eastern hymn
tr.: John Brownlie (1857-1925)
Music: David Lee

1. My hope is firm - ly — set on him whose truth a - bides;
2. My love its ar - dour — finds in him whose love is — strong,
3. My peace its calm at - tains in him whose power de - fends; the lights of earth may fade and die, the hopes of earth des - who bought me with a price un - told, more than of sil - ver my foes may sound a loud al - arm, I trust se - cure - ly pair - ing fly — no — fear my heart — be - tides.

or of gold, and — fills my heart — with song.
in the arm he — for my suc - cour lends.

4. My joy its gladness sings in notes his voice awakes—
a joy no effort can attain,
that thrills alike in loss and gain,
and when the world forsakes.

5. You Christ are all I need,
of all my bliss the spring;
more fulness in your grace is found
than when the corn and wine abound, and all the world can bring.
