

How shall we sing
the Lord's song?

How shall we sing the Lord's song?

We believe the Bible in our heads.
But do we sing its songs in our hearts?

Secular songs form the subliminal soundtrack of our lives. But do scripture's songs form the studied soundtrack of our worship?

We yearn in our world for God's justice and peace. But where in our church are scripture's own laments and anthems to integrity and righteousness?

In recent decades in many of our churches the Psalms in their breadth and depth have quietly sunk from regular view; in losing them are we also thereby losing our voice in the world?

This collection of songs from the psalms (and a few other places in scripture) is offered to help you recover and rediscover the sung resources of scripture, the Lord's song, in your church's life, worship and mission.
